

To Whom it May Concern,

Jim is one of the best teachers I have ever worked with.

We had very different backgrounds but found the right way to blend our styles in teaching people trampoline. Jim had many more progressions, ways to break things down and invite people from all levels into doing bigger skills. I was more hands on and would move at a faster pace.

What I learned from Jim was priceless because it showed me the intelligence of moving slow and steady as you build skills. His skills do not end at the trampoline, he is an amazing healer and knows so much about the body and biomechanics.

In my almost 10 years at the circus center I would put Jim in my top 5% of teachers I worked with there. He is super masterful at many aspects of circus and teaching.

If you have any specific questions, I would be happy to get on a call and answer them for you.

With respect,
