To Whom It May Concern:

I have known and worked with Jim for several years and can whole-heartedly recommend him to anyone seeking a professional who is familiar with a wide variety of circus/acrobatic disciplines and the physical requirements of each. As a teacher, a coach, a trainer and a mentor Jim understands the demands of professional circus acrobatic performers.

Jim has a comprehensive understanding of human anatomy and the body's biomechanics. His knowledge level allows him to assess each individual and customize progressions to maximize their learning. Jim has also demonstrated his experience and understanding of the psychology of learning and has successfully coached individuals through mental and emotional blocks as well as physical ones. Ultimately, Jim consistently imparts valuable skills that have a positive and lasting impact on his students and their careers.

Sincerely,
